INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 30, 1866.

To Those Who Owe Us.

A considerable amount is due on our books, both for advertising and old subscription, which we need, and which we hope our friends will forward to us, at farthest, by the members coming to the Legislature.

Inducements for Northern Men.

The Southern States, as a general rule, will in future offer less inducements, than heretofore, to Northern men disposed to pursue the mercantile business. The large profits, obtained the first eighteen months after the close of the war in the South, cannot be sustained much longer. Goods must come down. The large number of persons, both native and foreign, who are pressing into this vocation and filling the land with goods, must compel great competition, and the absolute necessities of the people must force them to confine their purchases within narrower limits. How much soever inclination may prompt us to indulge in the gratification or luxury of fine clothes, fine horses and furniture, and fine equipage, the slightest degree of reflection ought to satisfy all classes of our people, who have passed the upper and the nether millstone of the war, that extravagance and needless indulgence will as effectually prevent recuperation and thriftiness, as the war itself.

But comparatively few of our native population, however successful the enterprise and effort of the past year have been, will find themselves prepared, after the adjustment of the year's business, to indulge liberally either themselves or their families. The responsibilities of the past, supplying the necessities of the present, including taxes, and providing for the next year's business, will leave no surplus.

With the prospect, therefore, of a moderate business in mercantile transactions in future, which men of tact, but small capital, can well attend to, it appears to us that men of means, —Northern or Southern men,—can much more successfully and safely employ their capital in other pursuits than in merchandise.

Last year, when many Northern men proposed to rent cotton lands and to enter upon an untried experiment in the culture of that crop, many experienced planters in the South thought the scheme Utopian, and much doubt was expressed as to the results. It is probable, that bad management, both among Northern and Southern men, in cotton planting, added to the uncommon and untoward season experienced in this State, has disappointed the expectations of some, but we are inclined to think, upon the whole, it has been a success; not so great as some anticipated, yet a success nevertheless.

Take the following instance as an example: Last winter, Gen. Whittlesey and Capt. James, of the Freedmen's Bureau, rented the farms of Wm. Grimes, Esq., of this city, lying on both sides of Tar River, at Yankee Hall, in Pitt County. The same farms Mr. Grimes advertises for rent, the next year, in this paper. They were to pay him, or did pay him, in gold, $10,000 nett for the year's rent of the farms. They pitched a crop for 1,000 bales of cotton. How much corn, &c., we have not heard. By some cause, a portion of the cotton crop was not cultivated, or at least badly done. We learn, from a good source, that the crop will make 800 bales of cotton and ought to have made 1,000. One hundred bales of cotton at present prices will almost certainly nett $10,000, being only one-eighth of the crop of cotton. Usually, in that section, the rent of the land claims one-third of the crop. We are not prepared to say what has been the cost of cultivation; usually, the expense of cultivation ought not to exceed one-half of the value of the crops, where there are no surplus hands or stock to provide for. If it has cost one-half in this case, the nett proceeds of the cotton crop alone will be 300 bales or $45,000! leaving still on hand the utensils, stock, &c.

This, it strikes us, is a prettier operation, in view of the risk and capital employed, than merchandise or shipping. We judge that thousands of acres of land may be obtained in the cotton sections of the State, on reasonable terms for another year, and men of capital, who can secure and manage the labor, it impresses us, can scarcely do better than to invest in cotton raising. We have set down these facts as we hear them, for the consideration of capitalists. Our estimates may not be strictly correct. If we are in error, we shall be glad to have it pointed out.

Yet we believe there are still better sources of profit in this State, than in making cotton. The many fine sites, and the accessibility of the raw material and the cheapness of labor, open a rare field for investment in manufactories of various kinds; so of mining and other pursuits. All that is needed, is the presence of active capital and skillful hands to direct it, to obtain the largest results from its employment in North Carolina.

It was the English respect for law and the English veneration for precedents, which led the great Duke of Wellington, on one occasion, to say, in answer to some question about the chance of a British revolution, that "no man could foresee whether such a thing might occur or not, but, when it did, he was sure it would be done by Act of Parliament."

It is the disregard of law and the contempt for precedent, in our own country, in these days of degeneracy and passion, that justify the declaration, that when rights are to be invaded, the powers of government perverted, or constitutions sacrileged, it is certain to be accomplished through "Acts of Congress!"

The Standard is much pleased at the success of the Radicals in West Virginia. It would gladly hail a similar victory in North Carolina, produced by a similar agency,—the disfranchisement of our best citizens.

Western Extension Railroad.

We remarked, a day or two ago, that we were glad to witness the growing interest felt in our Western counties for the completion of this great Road. For more than fifty years, this has been the great idea of many leading minds in this State. Our success in Railroad enterprise in North Carolina, even as far as it has gone, has "been through much tribulation."—Almost every foot of Railroading has been met with opposition in this State. Difficulties of the most formidable character have been grappled with and overcome, not by means of exciting agencies, but by "the long pull, the strong pull, and the pull altogether." And yet we have not more than half begun. By the blessing of a beneficent Providence and a fortunate turn in the political future of the State in her National relations, those of the present generation, who shall live to see fifty years to come, will exclaim, with the Queen of Sheba, "the half was not told us."

Everything, however, depends upon the will and the vim of the present generation. The rich pastures, the green fields, the fat cattle, the land flowing in milk and honey, such as our mountain country is and can be made to be, and the untold wealth of its mountains, must be open to the world! The winding cow-paths and the trail of the deer must be displaced by the track of the iron-horse, and the bark of the wolf and the hoot of the owl must give way before the sharp scream of the engine whistle. The Western Extension must be put ahead!—It must reach the Tennessee line and interlock with the great iron track that runs on to Memphis and to Cincinnati and Charleston. The commerce of the great father of waters must find a highway across Tennessee and North Carolina to the Atlantic. Memphis must be brought near the great Atlantic marts, and our own seaports must be connected with the great West.

It was a good resolve, when the Directors of the Western Extension determined at Salisbury, some days ago, that the work should go on. The Road is about completed to Morganton.—To stop there is death. And yet how can the Herculean task of pushing 200 miles further through the mountains be accomplished? If we stand by and fold our arms and ask how? it never will be done. Let the strong men of the West, and of the whole State, put their heads together and resolve it shall be done. The capital is in the land, if not in the State, to do it, and it must be brought here to do it. We have spent much in war, and all is waste. Let us try the arts of peace and concord, and mutual good will and mutual benefit. That will do it, and it will bless yet the land, that has been cursed and desolated.

Facts From the Census.

An examination of the Census statistics of 1860 will exhibit results astonishing even to our own people, in regard to our resources and productive industry. We have accordingly taken the trouble to prepare the following comparative table of the agricultural products of North Carolina and those of South Carolina and Virginia:

| | Virginia, | North Carolina, | South Carolina |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cotton, (bales) | 12,727 | 145 514 | 353,412 |
| Tobacco, lbs., | 123,908,412 | 82,853,250 | 104,412 |
| Wool, " | 2,510,619 | 883,478 | 427,102 |
| Rice, " | 8,225 | 7,503,276 | 119,100 528 |
| Butter, " | 13,464 729 | 4.735,495 | 3,177,934 |
| Hay, tons, | 445 157 | 181,365 | 87,588 |
| Wheat, bush., | 12,130 977 | 4,743,767 | 1,285,631 |
| Oats, " | 10,186,720 | 2,781,807 | 936,974 |
| Corn, " | 38 319,999 | 30,078,564 | 15,065,606 |
| Peas & Beans, bush., | 515,168 | 1,932,204 | 1,728,074 |
| Irish Potatoes, " | 2,292,398 | 830,565 | 226,735 |
| Sweet " " | 1,960,817 | 6,140,039 | 4,115,688 |
| Home Made Manufactures, $, | 1,576,627 | 2,045,372 | 815,117 |

Taking all the agricultural productions together in these States, we find that we are, in proportion to population, nearly equal to Virginia, and far ahead of South Carolina. And it must be recollected that, in taking the census, no account was made of our naval stores, our lumber and ship-timber, mines or fisheries, all of which constitute a portion of the production, wealth and resources of the State.

In the report of the Treasury Department, in enumerating the annual exports, Virginia is set down at over $13,000,000, South Carolina at upwards of $15,000,000, and North Carolina at only about $500,000. The vast discrepancy is easily accounted for in the fact that all the North Carolina tobacco exported sought an outlet through Petersburg, Richmond or Norfolk, and thus passed as Virginia produce. The same was the case with our flour, wheat and corn.—Our cotton, too, mainly sought a market through those three cities on the North, and Cheraw, Camden, or Columbia, on the South, and thus went to swell the products of the other two States.

We do not institute this comparison for the purpose of disparaging our sister States, or of under-rating the advantages which they present for the investment of capital, the impulsions of enterprise or as homes for worthy, quiet and honest immigrants. While it is our principal aim to assist in rebuilding the shattered fortunes of North Carolina, still we have but little less at heart the revivification and welfare of the whole of our desolated and suffering Southern land.

History repeats itself every day. The great French annalist draws a sad portrait of Louis the Debonnaire in the hour of his disasters.—His children were as unnatural as those of Lear. Personal indignities of the most degrading kind were heaped upon him by those whose duty it was to sustain and honor him. Thrice he was made to do public penance for crimes of which he was not altogether guilty; and on the last occasion, we are told, stripped of his military baldric,—the lowest indignity to which a Frankish monarch could be subjected,—clothed in a hair shirt by the hands of an ungrateful bishop, he was led by one of his own sons through the streets of Aix-la-Chapelle.

The South presents the modern parallel.—Some of her own unworthy children are as unnatural as those of Louis or of Lear. Thrice she has submitted to humiliating concessions with whatever of cheerfulness and dignity she could assume. Now it is proposed to divest her of every robe of manhood and self-respect, to put the hair-shirt upon her sore, sensitive and bleeding form, and her own sons, some of them, (thank Heaven! there are but few so unfilial and ingrate,) propose to lead her along the streets, —an object of degradation and ruin!

For the Sentinel.

Norfolk, Va., Oct 27, 1866.

Editors Sentinel:—Let our ardent desire to see a great enterprise succeed be an apology for this communication.

Another direct-trade steamer, the "Melita," will be in our port shortly, and we trust that the unfortunate loss of the pioneer steamer, the "Ephesus," will not deter our N. C. friends from sending in cotton and other produce, to aid in making up a cargo.

The "Melita" will sail from Norfolk about the middle of November, and to those who do not wish to dispose of their present crop for so fluctuating a medium as Greenbacks, we would suggest this as the best disposition of it.

Those inclined to aid us can send forward their shipments to Col. W. Lamb, Norfolk, who will take pleasure in forwarding free of commission.

Yours truly,

"MELITA."

The North has pronounced for this amendment with such a degree of unanimity, that we can see no hope for the settlement of our political troubles, and the admission of the South to the right of representation in Congress, but in its adoption.—N. Y. Times.

The Times is mistaken. One election does not finally settle a question in this country. A decision at the polls is not irrevocable, but granting it, we do not think that the late elections prove that the majority of the Northern people favor the constitutional amendment; they do not prove that that demand may not be reconsidered. It is not just to enact an ex-post facto law. It is not just to invite a people to ostracize their leading citizens. It is not just to prescribe precedent conditions to the exercise of rights conferred by the Constitution, and if the Southern people decline to acquiesce in any such injustice, and make another appeal to the sense of fair dealing of the North, it does not follow that the latter will continue to do injustice in the future because they have been betrayed into it in the past.

The unanimity of which the Times speaks amounts to this: that in a poll of six hundred thousand votes in Pennsylvania, for instance, the Radicals have a majority of 17,000. Now, every sensible man knows that the election was not carried in Pennsylvania or elsewhere by a fair argument of the constitutional amendment, but by an incessant, exasperating appeal to the passions. The bloody horrors of the late war were recalled. The costly preparations and vast expenditures of the contest were dwelt upon, with every magnifying detail, except that of the gigantic swindling of political contractors. The dark crime of treason was painted in its blackest, most revolting colors. The loss of fathers and sons, and brothers and husbands, was aggravated by passionate rhetoric and vindictive phrase. The mournful memories of the hospital, the sad tragedies of the prison, were set forth with every harrowing detail of sorrow and of agony. The defiant language of a bold, high-spirited foe, nerved to desperation, uttered throughout the contest, was reproduced in every variety of provoking presentation, and the spirit of those same people, when they laid down their arms, was grossly and persistently represented as one of insolent demand. In other words, the small majorities of which the Radicals boast were won by the red hand. But the American people are incapable of continued injustice. They will respond to the claims of fairness and constitutional right. The Radicals may rejoice in their brief hour of triumph, but the reaction of conservative patriotism and of a catholic nationality will ere long assert itself and the South be restored to its wonted place in the national legislature.—National Intelligencer.

[From the Baltimore Transcript.]

Perplexity of the South.—It is recorded of a famous Greek, who was more celebrated for action than for speech, that, undertaking on one occasion to enlighten a noisy and disputatious crowd, who interrupted him by continued inquiries and wranglings, he was so disgusted by their interminable loquacity and querulousness that he stopped speaking, and could not be persuaded to say another word, which silence has been pronounced by a celebrated modern critic as more eloquent than many so-called orations.

Something of the same speechless indignation, the same conclusion that the best thing to be done is to let things take their own course, and to answer neither yea nor nay to the senseless interrogations about constitutional amendment; to lie perfectly still under the revival of that old instrument of torture, "the question," seems to pervade the minds of the people of the Southern States at this moment.

They are so confounded by the jargon of tongues, so hopelessly bewildered by the paradoxes and contradictions of that extraordinary Radical party, so unable to make out from all the lights before them whether they are in the Union or out of the Union; whether they are Americans or foreigners; whether they are fish, flesh or red herrings; that they seem to have come to the conclusion that the best thing they can do is to "dry up," and trouble themselves no farther about States or status, leaving it to the obstructionists to define their position, to pronounce them dragons or mermaids, and to vouchsafe no farther reply to the amendments proposed to be submitted to them than the answer of the showman to the question, "is that a lion or a tiger?" "Vich ever you please, my dear."

For the Sentinel.

Messrs. Editors:—The distinguished statesman (now alas! shorn of his public honors,) who said some years ago that he then, and always had, maintained the doctrine of secession, is a beautiful instance of political consistency. Others, more pliant, may yield to the pressure of tempests and storms; he never varies a hair's breadth. Others may imitate the osier, if they choose; he is the sturdy old oak. Tempests may rage, storms may howl, but there he stands, like old King Lear, bravely defying the winds to "blow and crack their cheeks." He tosseth his arms to the warring elements, and biddeth them do their worst. He laugheth them to scorn.

He who was a secessionist in 1854, and always had been before, is more a secessionist now. Secession was then only theory. It is in full practice now. Then he claimed that States had the right to secede. Now he admits (or Tray is in very bad company) that they have fully seceded. They had the right to go out of the Union, as he eloquently taught. And they went out. They could secede, and they have successfully seceded. They are now in a state of actual and complete and very comfortable secession; and the best of it is, they are obliged to stay seceded. They cannot get back.

How proud he must feel in the success of his theory! What sincere congratulations must have passed between the Ex-Provisional Governor of North Carolina and the Senator from Massachusetts, and Hartford Conventionists generally, during those happy ten days of July, at the successful issue of the patriotic doctrines mutually entertained by these distinguished men! In what harmonious accord they met and welcomed each other! How proudly erect did our beloved friend face these halting New Englanders! How did they quail before him as he taunted them to their teeth, with planning secession bravely enough, but shrinking like arrant cowards from its execution! They merely talked—he not only preached, but practiced.—What was simply designed by them, with him was an accomplished fact.

It was about this time, when their checks were red with shame, having fallen so very far short of their coadjutor, that the nominee to the San Salvador mission is presumed to have gently insinuated, with a leer that none but politicians know, that he would forgive them for all their short-comings if they would only send him abroad, where his ears might never more be pained with the names of Zeb Vance and Jonathan Worth. They were enough to sicken a dog,—and they had sickened him, ad nauseam. This rather staggered the Massachusetts men, who had studied Hodge's Logic at Cambridge University. They had a very high appreciation of his merits, but they must be logically consistent as well as he. And as they all agreed that North Carolina was out of the Union, it would by no means do to send a foreigner to represent the United States, who did not belong to those States. The best they could do for him was to invite him to turn his back on the Province of North Carolina, and Zeb Vance, and Jonathan Worth, and live somewhere in a sure enough State, and they could then consistently and willingly send him to San Salvador, or some other hot place, suitable to his political merits.

There was still another feasible plan. The people of the province of North Carolina had spurned the X. P. G. and he hated them from the bottom of his heart. There is a sore spot in the best of disappointed patriots, sometimes. These shrewd Yankees knew exactly where it was in our suppliant friend. Charles Sumner put his finger on it softly; and the galled jade winced. "Billy," quoth he, for they had become mighty friendly, "Billy, my boy: you are an Institution, per se, a harp of a thousand strings! Go home to your province, and lambaste the rascals like five hundred. Work with us like a Trojan. We want testimony. The Investigation committee did nobly, but we want the natives to speak. When evidence comes from them it tells. You have a Tri-weekly.—Strike the strings, Billy, and let them give no uncertain sound. Go it strong on the lyre (?) Pummel Jeff. Davis. Never mind what you used to say about him. Those who would be Foreign ministers must be above blushing.—Make us all blubber like babies over Salisbury Prison and Castle Thunder; but sink the Rip Raps—and Elmyra and Columbus—that is our business. Curse the Confederacy until it is blue again. Swear that soldiers who voted for peace candidates were bucked, suspended by the thumbs, and sent to the front to be slain in battle. Pitch into Zeb, with particular vim. Swear that he printed his tickets on yellow paper on purpose to spot your friends. Swear that sick soldiers from the hospitals were sent back to be killed, because they voted for you,—that one in particular was taken out of his bunk somewhere in Virginia, by ruffians, his head shaved, and he ridden on a rail. And publish it bravely that these men, who thus trampled on and scourged the Unionists, now control and lord it over your people. Rebellion must be proved to be rampant throughout the South, you know. It must not be safe for a Union man to say even his prayers. Publish in every issue, that they are leaving the State from bodily fear,—that they cannot sleep two nights on the same pillow for fear of being hung and quartered,—in fact, that they have no where to lay their heads, but are forced to wander about in the forests, and live on wild crabs and green persimmons! Do this, and much more of the same sort of labor in our vineyard, and though you may be laughed at, at home, you will walk right into the hearts of the sentimental school marms among you, who will write us all about it, and of our sighing spinsters at home, who will swallow it all, and implore their husbands and sweethearts, with tears in their eyes, to fight the dragon to the death. You can hope to do nothing for yourself at home, Billy; but you can be of infinite service to us in the coming elections. We will carry the day, and give you that blessed bolus, the Howard amendment, and, soon after, universal African suffrage,—and to you, personally—whew!—San Salvador is a baby to what we may, possibly, do for our friend.

Should the people of your Province exhibit an uncomfortable degree of contempt for your course in the premises, they can be easily pacified. Tell them boldly, that though after taking the oath to support the Federal Constitution in 1846, you afterwards "engaged in the rebellion," it was "involuntarily" done. They will believe it, for they are essentially green.—They will understand that those precious little words of five very big letters "FIGHT! FIGHT! FIGHT!" were just a little bit of fun on your part, only to try their pluck!"

We observe in our Raleigh exchanges the proceedings of a meeting of the stockholders of the "Raleigh Manufacturing Company," from which we learn that a sufficient amount has been subscribed to warrant the company in taking the initiatory steps towards the erection of their manufactory. Mr. W. H. Willard, who, we understand, was the originator of the movement, was unanimously elected President and directed to visit immediately the Northern cities and procure the necessary machinery.

This is energy practically directed. As citizens of North Carolina, desirous of her welfare, we rejoice to know that this matter of manufacturing has at last attracted the attention of gentlemen able to demonstrate its utility and advantages. We trust that this example will encourage others to do likewise, and that speedily every stream in North Carolina will be contributing to her prosperity. That the old State may recover from her embarrassment and prostration, it is necessary that every agency conducive to such a result shall be fully employed.—Our facilities are unrivalled,—what we need is energy and capital.

But we are met by the objection that the poverty of the people is an effectual bar to such undertakings; that, in other words, there is not surplus capital to spare for such purposes. We grant that individuals may be too poor to enter into the work, but associations may be formed amply able to do it.

Let us examine the facts. Take the counties of Edgecombe and Wilson, and grant, which is a low estimate, that the former will this year produce 10,000 bags of cotton and the latter 3,000, making a total of 13,000 bales for 1866. The Internal Revenue tax of three cents a pound is due only when the cotton is shipped from the point of production. On every bale of 400 pounds, therefore, $12 are saved if manufactured at home. If this cotton be shipped to New York it cannot be put in market for less than $13 per bale,—making $25 a bale saved if manufactured at home. 13,000 bales multiplied by $25 gives the snug sum of $325,000. How many establishments will that put in operation? Again—it is estimated that one pound of raw cotton will make three yards of goods, which will sell at manufacturer's prices, for 24 cents a yard; so that each pound of raw cotton is worth 72 cents minus the cost of manufacturing. Cotton, we will say, is selling in this market at 30 cents—add 50 per centum for the cost of manufacturing and you have 45 cents as the price of the cotton, converted into goods. The goods made therefrom sell for 72 cents, leaving a gain of 27 cents upon every pound of cotton consumed. 13,000 bags at 400 pounds each make 5,200,000 pounds; multiply by 27 and you have $1,404,000. Add to this the $325,000 previously saved and upon the crop of 1866 $1,729,000 accrue to the two counties. Nothing is said here of the cost of the transportation of the goods, nor of commissions nor jobber's profits. Admit that these figures are inaccurate—the fact will still remain, that Northern men engaged in the business can pay the U. S. tax, the commission, transportations and all other expenses attending the getting of the cotton to their mills, convert it into goods, ship these goods to us, sell them and grow rich on the proceeds. There is therefore money in the business. Why should we not retain it at home?

The erection of manufactories in our midst would draw to us skilled laborers, encourage immigration generally, invigorate trade, besides giving employment to thousands of our own poor, who are threatened with want and suffering. The number of these in every Southern community is fearfully large, the late war having deprived many hitherto happy families of their support. We can thus give employment to the widows and orphans of our dead, and array happiness to many a dreary hearthstone. —Wilson Carolinian.

We understand that a case of very general importance and extensive commercial relations, as to the principle to be adjudicated, will in a few days be argued before Judge Lyons in his Court.

In January, 1863, R. H. Maury & Co., of this city, sold and endorsed to Hamberger, residing in Norfolk, two drafts, drawn by the President of the bank of the State of North Carolina, each for one thousand dollars, payable at the Farmers' Bank of Norfolk, for which gold prices were given. The drafts, when presented, were not paid or protested, and no notice given of non-payment until after the cessation of hostilities. When presented at Norfolk in 1863, payment was tendered in Confederate notes, the bank having no other funds.

At the date of the drafts Norfolk was in the possession and under the jurisdiction of the Federal forces. Owing to the war and existing state of the armies, no regular communication was or could be had between Norfolk and Richmond. On these drafts the holder has given R. H. Maury & Co. as their immediate endorsers, seeking to hold them responsible as the venders, for consideration, or drawers of the drafts.

We learn that the case will turn on the principles growing out of these facts, connected with the then relations of the Federal and Confederate governments, &c., &c.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See Tax Notice of the Assistant Assessor of U. S Internal Revenue for this District.

J. Brown, with Hart and Lewis, advertises additional Fall importations.

The Banking House and lot of the Bank of Cape Fear, in this city, are offered for sale.

WE inadvertently omitted, on yesterday, to credit the Church Intelligencer with Bishop Atkinson's interesting letter from Europe.

DEATH OF DR. C. F. DEWEY.—We are deeply pained to learn that Dr. C. F. Dewey, formerly of this city, and eldest son of Charles Dewey, Esq., Cashier of the Bank of North Carolina, died very suddenly in Wilmington, on yesterday. Dr. Dewey was an estimable and deservedly popular gentleman, and the announcement of his premature demise will occasion profound regret in a large circle of acquaintances and friends.

IT WILL be observed that the Assistant Assessor of Revenue is instructed to collect the income tax for 1864. We suppose that no man in the South received other income than in Confederate currency. Was that money in the eye of the government? How is the amount of income to be arrived at? We hope to have an explanation in this matter.

THE EYE AND EAR.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Gardner, Oculist and Aurist, (formerly of London,) now of New York, who will be at the Yarborough Hotel, on Saturday, Nov. 24th., and remain until Thursday, the 29th. After that time, he will visit Raleigh monthly, of which due notice will be given.—The Dr. comes highly recommended by the press of the different cities he has visited. Those who require medical or surgical aid for defective sight or hearing should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief, by consulting Dr. Gardner.

The "Baltimore Radical rebellion," as it is called, seems to be subsided. That precious! sheet, the Baltimore American, thinks now that there "is no occasion for force in the matter." It seems that the proposed game was too much even for many of the Northern Radicals. But the Radicals of Baltimore, like those of St. Louis, are, generally, of the worst stamp.

A DOG HOSPITAL.—Paris boasts a canine hospital, where sick dogs are boarded and nursed with the most affectionate care. Large airy kennels are constructed for the big dogs, whilst the "little dog department" is said to be a perfect marvel of cleanliness and ventilation, with a pavement of variegated marble, painted walls and oaken kennels, known by the number, with bright copper fastenings. Thousands of human beings roam through Paris ekeing out a precarious existence, whose hearts would be made truly happy by a tithe of the care lavished on these dogs.

The meteoric shower promised by the astronomers about the middle of November, is, it appears, preceded by preliminary exhibitions. It is stated in the Philadelphia Ledger that, for several nights past, notwithstanding the moonlight, brilliant meteors have been noticed in the heavens, and the grand display anticipated next month will probably not fail us.

Our very energetic Sheriff made his appearance in the Town Hall, Wednesday night, just before Mr. Hope commenced the reading of his poem on Poetry and Art, to summon a jury! There's sentiment for you.—Charlottesville Chronicle.

The entire receipts of Madam Ristori's twenty-six performances in New York and Brooklyn amounted to $67,000. Of this Signora Ristori receives one-third.

Governor Orr authorizes the South Carolinian to say that he is opposed bitterly and unequivocally to the constitutional amendment, and will not recommend its adoption by the Legislature.

The remarkable difference between publishing and printing was clearly explained by a young lady to a gay printer boy. She said, "you could easily print a kiss on my cheek, but you should not publish it."

SUB ROSA—Writes the correspondent of the London Times from Rome: In the fifteenth century, consecrated roses, presented to the Pope, were placed over the confessionals at Rome, to denote secrecy, the rose being the emblem of silence. Hence the phrase, "Sub Rosa," which is almost universal.

It is announced in the Boston journals that a pew in a church in that city was sold recently for $5,400.

Hyrti, the greatest anatomist of the age, says he can distinguish in a dark room, by one stroke of the scalpel, the brain of the inebriate from that of the person who had lived soberly.

"Oak Hill," in Fauquier county, Va., the former residence of Chief Justice MARSHALL, and "Blenheim," in Albemarle county, the seat of the late ANDREW STEVENSON, are advertised for sale in the National Intelligencer.

Hon. C. M. Conrad, of Louisiana, of the Confederate Congress, is on a visit to Winchester, Va.

It is rumored that Anna Dickinson has recently rejected an offer of marriage from a distinguished Senator.

A Catholic church, to cost $150,000, is to be built in Bridgeport, Conn. It will be the largest church in the Nutmeg State.

Col. McLaws has been pardoned by the President.

State News.

—— We learn, from the Wilmington Journal, that the nineteenth Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Bladen, Brunswick and Columbus, heretofore reported to have gone for Colonel J. D. Taylor by 13 votes, gives a majority for Mr. Salter Lloyd of 73. Mr. Lloyd is a gentleman of intelligence and a politician of sound and conservative views, and will make a most efficient Senator. Colonel Taylor was not a candidate and supported Mr. Lloyd in the election.

—— A few days since, Sheriff Phillpot, of Granville county, arrived in Washington, D. C., with a requisition for a negro named Anderson Cooper, who broke jail in that county in March, 1865, after having been sentenced to be hung.—Mr. Phillpot at once conferred with Deputy Marshall Phillips, and the requisition being on the Governor of Virginia, and therefore of no power in Washington, Cooper was arrested and put in jail to await a requisition from the Governor of North Carolina.

—— The Editors of the Goldsboro' News are making arrangements to devote one side of their paper to wit, fun and illustrations,—imitative of the Live Giraffe, as published in this city in 1852.

—— On Saturday night, Mr. O. R. Colgrove, of Newbern, who has recently been carrying on a farm near Trenton, returned to Newbern carrying with him all his stock and household goods, to avoid their utter destruction by desperadoes who are now infesting the country.—This movement, says the Journal of Commerce, was hastened by the following circumstances: Mr. Colgrove, having heard threats of attack upon his premises by the robbers, made some preparations to receive them by constructing a stockade, and enclosing his stock, &c. True to their promise, the ruffians, to the number of 20 or more, made their appearance on Friday morning about one o'clock, and prepared the way for an advance on the corral by setting fire to Mr. Colgrove's cotton gin and outhouses.—Unginned cotton to the amount of 35 bales was destroyed, with the buildings, and other property very much damaged.

—— The trunk of Mr. J. H. Bullock, of Granville, was stolen from Jarratt's hotel, Petersburg, a few nights since. The trunk was subsequently found in the vicinity, but its contents were gone.

—— A negro man, named Mac Walker, was found dead near the farm of Col. Robert Moore, on the main road, about four miles above Lillington, New Hanover Co., on Wednesday morning last, shot in the breast, back and head—three distinct wounds. The Coroner held an inquest over the body, but no positive facts were elicited.

—— The Newbern Journal of Commerce publishes the statistics of trades and professions now being carried on in Newbern. We find, among many interesting items, the following resume: Boarding-houses 12; Commission-houses 13; Churches 7; Lawyers 11; Cabmen 126; Groceries 61; Physicians 12; Warehouses 10; Hucksters 50; Distillers 12; Markets 2; Insurance Agencies 5; Restaurants 5, &c.

—— His Excellency Gov. Worth has appointed Judge Mitchell to preside at the special Term of Davidson county to be held on the third Monday in December.

—— Mr. Luco Mitchell and Mr. S. D. Bencini engaged in the innocent pastime of shooting at each other, in front of the Mansion House, in Salisbury, on Saturday last. After three or four rounds had been fired, the inoffensive sport was stopped by bystanders without damage to either party. They were both arrested and placed under bonds to keep the peace.

—— Buncombe worthily follows the laudable example of Granville. The first annual Fair of the Agricultural Society of Buncombe is to be held in Asheville on the 13th. prox. Suitable premiums have been offered and all proper arrangements made to secure a success.

—— The Charlotte Democrat learns that sales of corn, at forty cents per bushel, have been made in Iredell county. The same paper expresses the opinion that there is plenty of corn in the State, although it is very scarce in some localities. It thinks that in Union county, perhaps, the scarcity is greater than in any other section.

—— The Asheville News announces the marriage, at Quallatown, Jackson county, of Charlie-will-no-tah and Nelly Sca-chee-tos-kihe, all of the Cherokee nation.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials, which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following;

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,

L. S. Notary Public,

Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,

116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,

119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"Send me another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign
